

The HRBRRD is operating in a deficit mode and searching for a solution to its financial problems. Back in November of 2008, a federal court ruled that federal law prohibited the HRBRRD from assessing the power plant electricity producers for the property taxes the HRBRRD pays to the local school districts, towns, villages and counties.